Questioning the continuation of the rowdy sheet opened against him, the petitioner filed this writ petition.

In the counter-affidavit filed on behalf of the respondents it is stated that the petitioner is involved in two criminal cases, and so, the rowdy sheet is continued against him.

The contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that inasmuch as the two criminal cases mentioned in the counter-affidavit ended an acquittal, no cases against the petitioner are pending, so respondents may be directed to close the rowdy sheet against the petitioner.

Basing on the material before them, respondents have to take a decision whether to continue the rowdy sheet against the petitioner or not. So, with a direction to the first respondent to take a judicious decision as to whether the rowdy sheet against the petitioner can be continued or not, for the next year i.e. 2008 on the basis of the material before him, the writ petition is disposed of. No costs.
